FALL 2019

SPEAKER

DANIEL STOVER M.A.
FOUNDER & CEO ENSIGHT PARTNERS

A staggering rise in burnout has hit the American workforce. To be effective as leaders, creatives, and professionals, we are dependent on a quiet mind, good use of our time, and clear communication within our teams. Often, we are unaware how our own psychology and tendencies obstruct our brightest creative and leadership potential. In this session, Founder and CEO of Enight Partners, Daniel Stover, will guide attendees through the realities of burnout and balance, allowing us to overcome our individual and cultural tendencies that lead to unforgiving stress and workplace funk.
