

Tim Conway, Vice President of Sustainability

As Vice President of Sustainability at Shaw Industries, Tim Conway has changed the company's attitude toward sustainability – namely that this goal, is a collective responsibility. Tim is focused on the positive effects that sustainable flooring products have on our buildings, and more importantly, the people that occupy and live in the spaces we design. For over 10 years, Tim has been at the forefront of educating and promoting Shaw's Cradle-to-Cradle certifications, Declare Labels, Health Product Declarations, and Environmental Product Declarations.
